SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Army maintained special guards on American installations in Saigon today to counter a Communist terror campaign that has killed three Americans and wounded more than 50 in the past two nights.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials also set up a Joint Security Council to work for greater safety for the thousands of U.S. servicemen and civilians and their families in the Vietnamese capital.

American military policemen stood guard at schools attended by American children and rode on school buses. U.S. soldiers patrolled other American installations.

Attack From Ambush

Some of the same Vietnamese police strongarm men who were assigned last summer to roughing up Buddhists and Western newsmen were on duty at the American schools along with the U.S. servicemen.

They included Inspector Lam Van Ly, one of Saigon's most feared judo experts and strongarm men under President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

About 2,500 American civilians live in Saigon, including military wives and children. The total of Americans in the capital, counting servicemen and officials, is believed to be about 10,000.

U.S. officials denied any consideration was being given to sending civilian dependents back to the United States.

The terrorist campaign continued Monday night with an attack from ambush on three American military men. One was wounded slightly when a grenade was hurled at their car.

Six Killed, 85 Wounded

Unconfirmed reports said the Viet Cong rebels were circulating leaflets saying "Two Americans a day."

The Joint Security Council, composed of three Vietnamese and three U.S. security officers, held its first meeting Monday. Premier Nguyen Khanh assured U.S. Charge d'Affaires David G. Nes, that the Vietnamese government is giving special attention to the American security problem.

Communist terrorists have made six attacks on Americans in Saigon the past three weeks, killing six and wounding 85.

Khanh's government also was investigating possible involvement of some Vietnamese policemen in recent Viet Cong terrorism.

Leniency Offered U.S. Pilot Held In North Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea offered today to deal leniently with two U.S. helicopter pilots held captive for the past nine months if the U.N. Command admits they were spying and that it won't happen again.

A U.N. Command spokesman said the Communist offer was under study.

Pace Speeded In Lansing On 14 Money Bills

LANSING (AP) — The legislature was expected to quicken its pace today after introduction Monday of 14 bills implementing Gov. George W. Romney's record $622.7 million budget.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was to begin discussion of spending specifics today, with a requested $90.5 million request for mental hygiene topping its agenda.

"I don't see any reason why mental health shouldn't get out of committee quickly," said Senate majority leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor.

He mentioned corrections and public health as other departmental budget requests which "could receive fairly prompt action."

In the House, meanwhile, outright "killing" of the governor's budget bills was suggested as a way of solving the legislative dilemma resulting from the Constitution's provision that they must be acted upon first.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, proposed that the bills be brought immediately to the House floor and rejected by referring them back to committee.

The theory was that this would fulfill, technically, the constitutional provision and would free lawmakers to revive the bills or introduce new ones.

Some legislative leaders said such a strategy has been discussed, but cannot be done until the bills are at least in printed form, a matter of several days.

Another meeting was scheduled today on whether to extend the deadline—now Wednesday—for introduction of new bills.

"I understand there are 308 bills still in the Legislative Service Bureau," said Thayer. The bureau does technical research and drafting on request for legislators.

More than 1,800 bills have been requested of the bureau a record number for any single legislative session. Monday night, the number of bills introduced grew to 822.

Platte conferred with Martin and Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis, while the committee investigated Panama's charges of U.S. aggression in the Jan. 9-11 rioting that left 24 dead, including four Americans.

The Paraguayan diplomat declined comment on his talks with Martin and Solis but indicated neither side expressed interest in his proposal.

The United States was evidently holding to its demand that Panama re-establish diplomatic relations, severed Jan. 9, as a prerequisite to further conversations. Panama wants the United States to agree to renegotiate the 1903 Panama Canal treaty before resuming diplomatic ties.

The committee will resume its inquiry Wednesday and begin drafting its findings for presentation to the full OAS.

The conferees resume their closed sessions early today in an effort to complete action on the 400-page bill this afternoon.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., head of the House group and the conference chairman, told newsmen it was decided at Monday's session to announce only the decision on the effective date for the cut in withholding.

The conference Monday succeeded in getting through about half of the 208 changes made by the Senate in the House bill. Many major differences were put aside for later decision.

It was understood they agreed tentatively to continue to allow deductions for state gasoline taxes. The House had voted to eliminate these as a deduction, but the Senate version reversed this.

In its final form, the bill is expected to provide individual and corporate tax cuts totaling about $11.5 billion a year. Cuts for most individuals will average about 19 per cent.

Mindanao Floods Take 30 Lives

MANILA (AP) — Deaths in widespread floods on Mindanao Island have mounted to about 30, newspaper reports said today.

Cholera was reported to have broken out in the flooded towns of Agusan Province.

In Davao Province alone, 15 towns were reported under water.

estimates involved are incalculable. The loss suffered by the public interest is intolerable.

"The recent bombings of this property are outrageous criminal acts."

"The interruption this past week of vital defense operations of Cape Kennedy, resulting from picketing, is a further insufferable price to the public," the telegrams read in part.

Picketing of Cape Kennedy began after the railroad started operations of a spur there. Work on millions of dollars in space projects was halted when construction workers honored the picket lines. Work was resumed after the National Labor Relations Board worked out a truce.

There have been more than 200 violent incidents during the strike. The most recent were dynamite bombings of freight trains in North Miami Beach and New Smyrna Beach.

The 1,300 members of the non-operating unions employed by the railroad struck Jan. 23, 1963, after the railroad said it could not grant their request for 10.28 cent an hour raise.

The unions said they can't afford to settle for less than the national pattern of 10.22 cents added to hourly pay of $2.42. This was accepted by 190 Class I railroads in 1962 on the basis of a National Emergency Board recommendation.

The railroad has been operating with supervisory employees and trainees. It carries only freight.

Hatters Promote New LBJ Model

NEW YORK (AP) — Hat Corp. of America said Monday President Johnson has allowed hat makers to promote an "LBJ" model.

It's a modified version of the Texans' five-gallon hat, which is a smaller version of the cowboy's ten-gallon hat. Charles H. Salesky, president of Hat Corp., designed it.

Sinatra Ransom Story Checked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With defense attorneys split over a mistrial motion that failed, Frank Sinatra Sr. was expected to move into the spotlight today at the trial of three men accused of kidnapping his son.

The government wants Sinatra to testify about the payment of $240,000 ransom to the alleged abductors.

His 20-year-old son wound up three days of testimony in federal court Monday. The judge told him to stand by for a possible recall to the stand.

Sinatra Sr. nearly lost his day in court Monday when Charles E. Crouch Jr., attorney for defendant Barry Keenan, said an out-of-court interview by another defense lawyer prejudiced the case against Keenan.

Crouch asked for a mistrial. Crouch told newsmen later that the article had created a split between defense attorneys.

"From now on, I'm working alone," he said.

Accord Reached On Plan To Police Cyprus Dispute

Panama Peace Efforts Shift To Washington

PANAMA (AP) — The Organization of American States, trying to break the five-week deadlock in the U.S.-Panama dispute, shifted its peacemaking effort back to Washington today after evident failure in the Panamanian capital.

The five-nation OAS committee's departure for Washington early today signaled failure of its week-long search here for a formula on which the two countries might settle their differences. U.S. special negotiator Edwin M. Martin also left for Washington.

Informants said the OAS group would have remained longer if the United States or Panama had shown any favor for a peace proposal advanced by Juan Plate of Paraguay, chairman of the special inquiry committee. Terms were not disclosed.

Plate conferred with Martin and Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis, while the committee investigated Panama's charges of U.S. aggression in the Jan. 9-11 rioting that left 24 dead, including four Americans.

The Paraguayan diplomat declined comment on his talks with Martin and Solis but indicated neither side expressed interest in his proposal.

So while Cuban military guards watched, four Cuban workmen on the base Monday severed the 14-inch line from the Yateras Reservoir.

Until Feb. 6 two million gallons had flowed over the pipeline each day. Then the Cubans turned off the water, but the pipeline stayed in place. Now the base is completely independent of Cuban water supplies.

Broadcasts the past few days over Havana Radio have charged the Americans were stealing water from the pipeline.

The salty admiral said he made the decision to cut the pipeline after Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze asked him whether there was any truth in Cuba's charges.

"I told him we had not cheated or stolen anything," Bulkeley told a news conference.

Tax Cut Will Be Felt Fast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees on the tax cut bill have made sure the nation's wage and salary earners will get the benefit of the reductions at the earliest possible moment.

They agreed Monday to accept a Senate provision which will make the new lower withholding rates in the bill effective with pay checks delivered eight days after the measure is signed into law.

This was a victory for the administration, which has been pressing to have the effects of the tax cut felt in the economy as soon as possible.

Some companies have notified Congress it will be difficult to make the change in their pay rolls within a week.

The conferees resume their closed sessions early today in an effort to complete action on the 400-page bill this afternoon.

Mediator Seeks Peace Between Greeks, Turks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and Cyprus are reported agreed on principles for a plan to police the turbulent Mediterranean island with an international force while an impartial mediator seeks peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The British-Cypriot plan also calls for a consultative committee of U.N. members.

The two nations reportedly agreed on general terms of a Security Council resolution after the council postponed the start of its debate on the Cyprus crisis until this afternoon.

The resolution would avoid the controversial issue of how the international force should be set up and would merely agree that there should be such a force.

Thant Takes Hand

It would also appeal to all countries to respect the territorial integrity of the island, an appeal which Cyprus had planned to propose in a separate resolution.

The council debate, scheduled to start Monday, was postponed after Secretary-General U Thant took a hand in the crisis with peace proposals of his own.

Thant's ideas were handed to representatives of Cyprus, Britain, Turkey, the United States and Greece in a memorandum which dealt with establishment of an international peace force for Cyprus and with machinery for mediating the conflict.

One objective was to find a formula that would be accepted by all parties concerned and thus avoid the risk of a Soviet veto. President Makarios of Cyprus has indicated he would accept no peace force unless it was under control of the Security Council.

Confers With Ball

Sources close to Thant said he thought agreement might be reached on a force linked to the United Nations but not directly under U.N. command. He was understood to be seeking accord also on an arrangement under which Britain, Turkey, Greece and Cyprus would finance the force.

Thant discussed his views with U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who had come directly from a meeting with President Johnson in Washington. Ball later conferred with other U.N. diplomats before returning to Washington Monday night.

Riot Squelched

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government renewed martial law throughout Syria Monday night after putting down a riot in the oil port of Banias. The government called the riot an attempted insurrection.

AFL - CIO President George Meany told a news conference Monday he had agreed to Johnson's personal appeal to help seek a settlement of the boycott. But Meany also said he backed the union stand.

Rocket Plane Designed To Fly At 5,300 MPH

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rebuilt X15 rocket plane, designed to fly at speeds up to 5,300 miles an hour, leaves by truck today for Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

A spokesman for North American Aviation, Inc., said first flight is expected in May. The plane, one of three built by North American, was damaged in a crash landing in November 1962.

During repair two external fuel tanks were added to allow its rocket engine to burn longer and thus reach higher speeds.

Fair Districting Decision Backed By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reaction among congressmen indicated support today for the Supreme Court ruling that House members should represent equal numbers of people.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and unsuccessful sponsor for 15 years of a bill calling for equality in congressional districts, said he was "happy about the court's momentous decision."

"It is a great step forward in giving the districts fair, equitable and just representation," Celler said.

Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., said: "This has been long coming. I can't see any fault in it."

Analysts at Republican headquarters said the Republicans probably will gain seats in the House as a result of the high court's decision. But Democratic spokesmen said "the majority party is the Democratic party and it cannot but benefit from any move which attempts to give all citizens as close as is practicable" an equal voice in electing House members.

House leaders from both parties blasted a dissenting opinion by Associate Justice John M. Harlan, who argued that the verdict "casts grave doubt on the constitutionality of the House of Representatives."

Harlan said the ruling "places in jeopardy the seats of almost all the members of the present House of Representatives," because only 37 of the 432 present members were elected from districts that conform with the court's ruling.

"It's pretty far-fetched to intimate that actions by the House might prove to be illegal," said Leslie Arends of Illinois, the assistant Republican leader.

"Of course the House is constitutional," asserted Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

Opinion By Black

The court's decision was by a 6-2 vote with Justice Tom Clark concurring on some points and dissenting on others. The majority opinion was by the court's senior associate justice Hugo M. Black.

He concluded: "While it may not be possible to draw congressional districts with mathematical precision, there is no excuse for ignoring our Constitution's plain objective of making equal representation for equal numbers of people the fundamental goal for the House of Representatives."

Union Holds Up U.S. Wheat On Foreign Ships

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Efforts of the Labor Department's top troubleshooter to quickly settle a union boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union apparently have failed.

Insistence by labor leaders that at least half the grain be transported in U.S. vessels dashed President Johnson's hopes of an early solution.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, who was sent here by the President, was to have held a news conference on the wheat dispute Monday night, but it was called off.

Reynolds was to leave today for Daytona Beach on another labor dispute, a strike against the Florida East Coast Railway that has slowed construction of space facilities at Cape Kennedy.

AFL - CIO President George Meany told a news conference Monday he had agreed to Johnson's personal appeal to help seek a settlement of the boycott. But Meany also said he backed the union stand.

Call Bounties 'Throw Away'

Michigan bounty hunters and trappers cashed in on foxes, bobcats, and coyotes for a near record payment of $242,135 during 1963, the Conservation Department reports.

The latest bounty figure is up $27,000 from 1962 and falls short of the 1961 all-time high by only $160.

Fox claims were the second highest on record for this state. They totaled $172,305 for 34,461 animals as against $151,705 the year before. Another $66,890 went for 3,830 bountied coyotes. Only two other payments on coyotes rank higher. Upper Peninsula hunters and trappers collected $2,940 for 588 bobcats.

"Last year's total payment represents a net gain of nothing to the state's sportsmen who foot the bounty bill each year," remarks Department Director Gerald E. Eddy. "It amounts to throwing the sportsman's money away at a time when there is a crying need for funds to promote game and fish activities which will benefit him."

Eddy reports that the Department and Conservation Commission are seeking an end to bounty payments as part of their eight-point legislative program for 1964. He also notes that Governor Romney's special conservation study committee solidly recommended the elimination of all bounties in favor of a strengthened program of predator control by the Department.

Since 1935, Michigan has paid out more than $3,720,000 in hunting and fishing license money on bountied animals.

Potato Storage Situation Favors Peninsula Growers

Potato farmers seek market reports and storage reports to give them information on which to base local prices for their potatoes.

The February report on potatoes in storage looks good. Michigan has 8% less potatoes in storage than a year ago as of Feb. 1. The United States is down 3% compared to last year and 7% less than in 1962.

Almost 26 million hundred-weights were moved in January. The fresh market was taking as much as a year ago and the processors increased their volume. The only areas that have more potatoes in storage than a year ago are Idaho and Colorado. The Eastern and Central areas of the county are both down in volume in storage. Since freight rates are relatively high coming into the Midwest from Idaho, potato prices should hold firm in the weeks ahead, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director.

OUTSTANDING office performance awards were presented at Monday's ASC meeting in the Sherman Hotel. Soil Conservation Aids Getting New U.P. Accent

Fifty years ago an American farmer could feed himself and four other people with efforts and now that he's efficient he can feed 28.

"Those other 28 are all right now, but the farmer is starving. Who is efficient?"

The speaker was Frank Light of Lansing, one of three members of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Lansing. He addressed the annual meeting of ASC office managers, clerks and county committeemen of the Upper Peninsula which closed at the Sherman Hotel this noon. The meeting opened on Monday.

The ASC program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture provides federal funds to share costs of good land use practices which the Department of Agriculture is trying to get established.

"These funds are allocated through the local ASC Committees," explained Light. "Actually this is an educational program as far as the farmer is concerned. We (the federal government) share his costs for a few years to get him to use the practices. When he sees how good they are, he will use them on his own initiative and without subsidy."

Ownership Changing
"We keep talking about 'farmers,' but it would be more exact today to use the term 'landowner,' in our program because so many owners of rural lands today aren't farmers. The non-farmers seem to increase and they seem to know more about land conservation practices than the farmers do."

"Many of them do tree planting on a cost sharing basis. Overall I don't know how much we are doing to help the farmer. I wish we could do more."

"There are a lot of possibilities up here in agriculture and we of ASC would like to help the area realize more of them. There is a big potential in timber because timber grows best on much of this land. Under management it should return to what it was (fine forests)."

Irene Blomberg, manager of the Delta County ASC office in Escanaba, reported that the amount of tilled acreage in Upper Peninsula farms remains fairly static and unchanging, but the number of farmers decreases.

One of the most significant changes underway in Upper Peninsula farming is the trend toward recreational use and improvement of farmlands. There was a 10 per cent increase in 1963 over 1962 in the Upper Peninsula acreage under the ASC program which had recreational projects and cost sharing.

Forest Management
These projects including the planting of trees, construction of ponds for wildlife and recreation, planting of feed plots for wildlife, etc.

There is also an increasing acreage in forest management projects, especially thinning of hardwood stands to improve the quality of the trees which are left to grow. Farmers are not eligible for cost sharing on thinning where the thinning is sold commercially (for charcoal, wood chemicals, pulp, etc.) but they can use them for fuel, etc.

Light said that the future of Upper Peninsula farming will be more clearly indicated when all its farms in the land bank emerge in the next few years. He was informed locally, he said, that there was no prospect of dairy farms in the bank being re-established as individual dairy farms again, because the capital investment is too great for the profits in prospect. Many will be incorporated into neighboring operations.

More Recreation
Light said "Where farmers are making a 6 per cent return on their investment they regard it as good. The farmer who wants to re-establish a dairy operation on a farm coming out of the soil bank would have to pay 6 per cent on an investment loan to get started. He would have to pay out on the loan what the other farmer makes as a profit so he would be in poor position to compete with him."

Light said that he was surprised at the volume of mid-winter traffic in Northern Michigan which is obviously recreational.

When asked if farmers were keeping their cattle out of their woodlands better than they used to (woodland grazing undenourishes cattle and ruins the forest), he said "ASC has a woodlands fencing program!"

Alger Breeders Assn., OKs Plans For New Program

Directors of the Alger County Artificial Breeder's Association meeting Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Swajanen, Eben set up plans for the annual meeting at Chatham Tow Hall April 16. Two directors will be elected to replace Walter Maki and Toivo Luoma, whose terms expire. A nominating committee consisting of Toivo Luoma and John Campana was appointed.

The annual Michigan Artificial Breeder's Cooperatives meeting to be held at East Lansing on March 24-26 was discussed and three delegates will represent the Alger Association, which again bred more than 1200 cows artificially in 1963.

Russell Hanson, of East Lansing, Michigan Artificial Breeder's Assn., fieldman, talked on the advisability of the local association going on a frozen semen program. Hanson said the frozen semen program would bring more outstanding dairy and beef bulls into Alger County in the semen ampule form and may have a favorable effect on the conception rate. The Board accepted the plan to make the Alger County Artificial Breeding Association a "pilot" area for the use of frozen semen.

Bounty Animals Least Trouble

Foxes, bobcats and coyotes—Michigan's bountied threesome—last year continued to place low on the list of animals which stirred damage complaints among farmers and other landowners in the state.

Of 2,587 problem cases which conservation officers and trapper instructors were called upon to answer during 1963, only 57 involved these three animals. This amounts to about two per cent of the total number.

Raccoons lived up to their nickname of "ring-tailed rats" by topping last year's field of wildlife troublemakers with 718 complaints. Squirrels were the next biggest nuisances, prompting reports of 561 damage cases. Beavers were the third most bothersome animals, as they got too eager for the liking of 296 landowners.

Also leading the three bountied animals in damage cases were: skunks, 123 complaints; deer, 122, dogs, 119; rabbits, 113; pheasants, 111; woodchucks, 88; and muskrats, 70.

About two-thirds of the complaints against whitetails were registered in the southern Lower Peninsula where the mushrooming deer herd has caused an estimated $300,000 in annual damage to agricultural crops and tree nurseries during recent years.

Conservation officers and trapper instructors spent nearly 10,000 hours in handling last year's cases of animal damage to crops, livestock, and poultry.

County Fair Report Given At 4-H Meeting

ROCK — The Rock 4-H Club met at the club house Feb. 12 to hear a report on the results of the 4-H County Fair. The club grossed $97.94. Expenses were $16.28 for merchandise and $20.45 which was turned over to the County council. This left the club a net of $61.21.

Prize winners were Mrs. Orval Lehto of Rock, Mrs. Tom Brayak of Bark River and Regina Piron of Wells. Though the club has expenses coming up in connection with its activities, it is hoped the members will be able to make some scenic trip in June as an educational tour.

The members traveled with the bus to Flat Rock with Eino Salmi driving. Members attending the Fair were Sally Waak, Nancy Weldum, Jean and Debra Kivela, Pamela and Debra Sharkey, Debra Trombly, Cheryl Larson, Tina and Beth Mankiewicz, Cynthia Niemi and Donna Beauchamp. Chaperones were Mrs. Albert Weldum, Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz, Mrs. John Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Ahti Waak, Mrs. Eino Salmi and Mrs. John Niemi. Patricia and Priscilla Waak accompanied the group as visitors.

Members who reported on Switzerland were Jean Kivela on Education, Cheryl Larson on Industry, Tina Mankiewicz on Foods, and Pamela Sharkey on the Swiss Calendar and Swiss Francs and Centimes. The members enjoyed converting American money into Swiss currency and vice versa. Swiss francs and centimes were on display.

Mrs. Weldum read parts of a letter which she had received recently from a Mrs. Doris Lanz in Rohrbach, Switzerland. Pictures showing the parade when Payerne, Switzerland celebrated its 1,000 year old Abbey in July were on display. These had been sent by Miss Ruth Rapin, a former IFYE student to Michigan, and by Janine Rossier, who corresponds with Pamela Sharkey and Nancy Weldum.

Mrs. Weldum reported that Karl Trittenbass from St. Gallen, Switzerland sent two records of Swiss songs as a gift to the club.

Nancy Weldum was in charge of games and songs before the meeting. Pamela and Debra Sharkey served a valentine lunch after the meeting. The next meeting will be March 11. The local style show is tentatively set for March 20.

Investigate Burglary Of Flat Rock Bar

Sheriff's Officers are investigating the breaking and entering of the White Birch Tavern at Flat Rock which occurred sometime after 1 a. m., Monday.

Rebels Toss Out Gabon President

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP) — Military rebels overthrew Gabon's President Leon M'Ba in a midnight coup and formed a revolutionary council to govern that West African republic, rebel broadcasts from Libreville said today.

The fifth upheaval of 1964 among new African nations, this affected a former French colony of 440,000 population that is the home of Dr. Albert Schweitzer. Dr. Schweitzer for half a century has had a jungle hospital at Lambarene, 100 miles southeast of Libreville.

Costello Happy, Wins In Court

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Costello, onetime reputed czar of the New York rackets, says he's "pretty happy" about the U. S. Supreme Court ruling that he's not a deportable alien.

"But," he adds, "I always was optimistic."

"Celebrate? No," he told a reporter Monday, a few hours after the court handed down its decision.

"I'm through, 'I'm through,'" he said, without indicating whether he referred to his legal battles with the federal government or his retirement from the underworld.

The 73-year-old gambler-racketeer said he was "grateful to the great American Supreme Court" that halted government moves to send him back to his native Italy.

"I always thought myself an American, and I am," he added.

The court decision showed that his gambler's luck was still going strong.

Library Reports More Interest In South America

With the Johnson administration's re-evaluation of our Latin American policy and the recent troubles in Panama, Cuba, and Venezuela, interest in the problems of this important area has increased among patrons of the Escanaba Carnegie Public Library, says Library Director Harry Court-right.

"Americans are more and more aware of the crucial problems in Central and South America," Courtright said. "The material on the subject has been limited, but in recent months there has been an increased output of reports."

One of the most absorbing of these recent books is "Latin America: World in Revolution," by Carleton Beals, longtime student, observer and analyst of Latin America, who is highly critical of U. S. policies in Central and South America.

Canadian Author
Another recent report both disturbing and urgent is "The Coming Explosion in Latin America" by Gerald Clark, Canadian editor, former Canadian parliamentary correspondent and war correspondent. The author analyzes the inroads of Communism and other revolutionary forces in the major Latin American countries. Still another "warning of coming upheaval" is uttered by William Benton in "The Voice of Latin America."

The historical background which illuminates much of what is happening is found in "History of Latin America," by Hubert Herring, revised in 1961, which concludes with an analysis of anti-American sentiment in these countries.

Journal Available
Philosophical background to the development of Hispanic-American political thought is furnished by Helen Bailey's "Latin America: The Development of Its Civilization."

Other books about Latin America include "Latin America Between the Eagle and the Bear," by Salvador de Madariaga, "The Latin American Republics" by Dana Munro, "Latin America: A Modern History" by James Rippy, and "A Latin American Speaks" by Luis Quintanilla.

The librarian says an excellent way to keep informed on developments in Latin American culture and civilization is the Pan American Union's monthly magazine, "Americas", available in the library.

Couples Choose Weddings In Hell

HELL (AP) — Justice of the Peace Mel Reinhard reports that four couples already have made advance reservations to be married in Hell in June.

Reinhard, Hell's first resident justice, thinks maybe life promises to be a major summer attraction in this tiny Livingston County resort area.

The justice, who lives on Angels Pass, performed his first wedding ceremony in Satan's Hills last November.

There was no mention of bloodshed. Accounts from Libreville indicated the coup was intended to end a power struggle between President M'Ba, 62 and his chief political rival, J.H. Aubame, who has been both a National Assemblyman and chief justice of the Supreme Court.

The election of a new assembly was due next Sunday.

Radio Gabon broadcast a proclamation that a new provisional government will be formed Wednesday.

An army officer who identified himself as a Lt. Daniel Odene said M'Ba "and his acolytes have been arrested."

The reported coup came in the wake of four uprisings last month on the east coast of Africa—the deposing of the sultan of Zanzibar and abortive mutinies among troops of Tanganyika, Uganda and Kenya.

A French news agency report from Libreville said M'Ba and National Assembly President Louis Bignann were in the government palace and that rebel troops ringed it.

Later an unidentified speaker broadcast that "calm reigns throughout the country."

Briefly Told

4th Degree Knights of Columbus will hold their regular meeting Wednesday night, at 8 p.m. in the clubrooms.

Application for a marriage license was made with County Clerk William E. Butler Monday by Charles L. Vader, 309 S. 6th St., and Alice Mae Johnston, 17 N. Hill, Gladstone.

The Red Buck Boy Scout district meeting scheduled for Feb. 24 at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Hall will be postponed until March. Bernard Cudahy, Scout executive, said the date will be announced later.

General Found With Dead Wife

NEW YORK (AP)—A retired Air Force general, victim of a mysterious shooting in Oklahoma last year, was found mumbling incoherently and suffering from malnutrition in a hotel suite in which his wife lay dead.

Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Gent Jr., 52, a West Pointer who flew 46 World War II missions over Europe, was taken to a veterans hospital. Police believed, pending an autopsy, that his wife, Martha Louise, 54, died of natural causes and that Gent was suffering from shock.

A preliminary medical examination indicated that Mrs. Gent had been dead almost a week when an employee of the Hotel Martinique entered the couple's three-room suite Saturday and discovered her nude body lying between twin beds. The former general was sitting next to her on the floor.

Police found two bottles of sedatives—one empty — near Mrs. Gent's body.

There was an ample supply of food and beverages in the housekeeping suite, police said.

Last June 24 the general, then commander of the 32nd North American Air Defense Command Region, was found critically wounded in his quarters at Tinker Air Force Base near Oklahoma City.

Less than 24 hours before, Mrs. Gent had been arrested after an auto accident. She was charged with resisting arrest and assaulting a policeman.

The Air Force said Gent's wound—caused by a .25 caliber automatic — was self-inflicted. The Air Force did not say if it was accidental or intentional.

The Gents had checked into the hotel here Feb. 2.

Order Forms For Trees Are Available Here

The Delta County Soil Conservation District urges people to plant trees on land suited for reforestation rather than agriculture.

The two species most often recommended for reforestation are red pine and white spruce. Land owners aiming at Christmas tree production rather than reforestation can get species more suitable for Christmas trees from private nurseries. Some Scotch pine, Austrian pine, Douglas fir and Blue spruce are available.

Red pine and white spruce are available from the Conservation Department Nurseries located in different parts of the state. Order blanks are available for ordering trees at the County Extension Office in the Delta County Building. When placing an order, a check or money order must accompany the order for trees.

A soil conservation payment is made by the ASC Office for reforesting land not suitable for agriculture. Orders will be accepted for trees throughout March.

Paving Sought By Petitioners

The Escanaba City Council will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall to consider among other items on the agenda a list of paving projects for which petitions have been received by the city.

George M. Harvey, city manager, said that the projects include one sanitary sewer east of Willow Creek Road and from 8th Ave. S. to 70 feet south of 14th Ave.

The street paving petitions are for curb, drainage and blacktop on S. 14th St. from 11th Ave. S. to Lake Shore Drive; S. 15th St. from 12th Ave. S. to 16th Ave. S.; and 12th Ave. S. from 14th to 15th St.

Grading and graveling are asked for 22nd Ave. S. west from Lake Shore Drive to the west line of the Kurz Brothers Addition; and curb and blacktop on 13th Ave. N. from Washington Ave. to 23rd St. N.

The alley paving jobs asked by the petitioners are between 16th and 17th St. S. from 1st to 2nd Ave. S.; 14th and 15th St. S. from 6th to 7th Ave. S.; 14th and 15th St. S. from 11th to 12th Ave. S.; 7th and 8th Ave. S. from 12th to 13th St. S.; 7th and 8th Ave. S. from 10th to 11th St. S.; and 22nd and 23rd St. N. from 12th to 13th Ave. N.

The petitions ask the city to make the improvements in the fiscal period 1964-65.

Other business to come to the Council will include adoption of the voting change; and to consider a request from Howard Berger to vacate that portion of 13th Ave. S. between S. 15th St. and the Escanaba Country Club property.

Kidnap Victim Blindfolded For 12 Days In Shack

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) —The kidnaped heir to an Asian movie fortune said today he was kept blindfolded in a wooden shack and "never saw the light of day" during 12 days of captivity.

Ve Ming Shaw, 31, son of movie magnate Run Run Shaw, told newsmen the kidnapers put blindfolds on him and his chauffeur when they abducted them Feb. 5. He said the blindfolds stayed on until he and the chauffeur were pushed out of a car Sunday night on the outskirts of Singapore.

The family has denied paying ransom, and police are still searching for the kidnapers.

Hunt Preserve Uses Farm Area

By ALLEN WEBER
Soil Conservation Service

The Wallace Hunting Preserve, in Menominee County, illustrates a novel use of farm land for public recreation. More than 300 acres of farm and woodland have been converted to hunting preserve by Wesley Eland and his son, Wesley Jr.

Actually, the whole family works at hatching and raising 5,000 pheasants annually for release and sale. They dress and freeze pheasants and find time to give friendly service to hunters.

Michigan law permits hunting on preserves from Sept. 15 to April 1. The mild weather and lack of snow in Menominee County this year has been ideal for several types of hunting, Eland says.

George Stich of Menominee, an enthusiastic bow hunter shoots pheasants on the wing with bow and arrow in the preserve. He gets one in about 8 shots by his own honest estimate, he says, and finds it better sport than hunting with a shotgun.

Some hunters bring their own dogs, but dogs are available at the farm for those who want to use them.

Henry Sherry, principal of Gwinn High School, has been a pheasant hunter for many years and reports he prefers hunting on preserves to hunting in the wild. Pen raised birds furnish equally good sport and are better eating than wild birds, he says.

Menominee hunters led the list of persons hunting at the Wallace preserve in 1963 but the list includes hunters from Marquette, Escanaba, Kalamazoo, Chicago and Milwaukee.

Eland is a cooperator with the Menominee Soil Conservation District and plans to improve feed and cover this year with some new varieties of plants and shrubs recommended for hunting preserves.

Farm surplus and unfavorable economic conditions have resulted in conversion of many acres of cropland to other uses. Recreation is another land use adapted to some farms, but is not likely to replace woodland, cropland, and grassland as a major land use in this area.

Fair Districting Decision Backed By Congressmen

has 823,680 persons compared with only 272,154 in the adjoining, rural 9th District.

"We agree with the District Court that the 1931 Georgia apportionment grossly discriminates against voters in the 5th Congressional District," Black's opinion said. "A single congressman represents from two to three times as many 5th District voters as are represented by each of the congressmen from the other Georgia congressional districts."

The high court returned the case to the District Court for further action.

ONLY 37 QUALIFY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice John M. Harlan, dissenting in Monday's high court ruling on congressional districting, declared only 37 present House members would meet requirements outlined in the decision.

They include Michigan's Congressman-at-large Neil Staeber, a Democrat.

In a footnote to his dissent, Harlan listed the 37 districts which he felt would fit the standards set down by the majority. They include 22 members elected at large, by all of the voters in a state.

Executive Tells Kiwanians About Scout Progress

Bernard Cudahy of Marquette, District Boy Scout Executive, discussed the progress of the Boy Scout organization Monday in a talk at the Escanaba Kiwanis Club meeting. A motion picture of events in the life of Astronaut Gordon Cooper, illustrating the part played in his career by Boy Scout activities, preceded the talk.

Introductions were by Robert Barron, who pointed out that Scouting was in its 54th year. The Kiwanis Club sponsors Troop 444, and special guests of the club Monday were the men in charge of the Kiwanis troop, William Niles and the Rev. Ben Helmer.

The first issue of a new Escanaba Kiwanis Club newspaper, edited by Lee D. Liljander, was distributed Monday to members.

Exodus To Washington?

The winter book on fall politics shows a big field. Governor George Romney is going to have opposition for Republican nomination if he runs for governor again. George N. Higgins, former state senator, says he'll oppose Romney in the August primary. "The people ought to have a choice," says the Ferndale auto dealer. Former Republican Lieutenant Governor Clarence Reid will head Higgins' nominating petition drive. Governor Romney hasn't announced for governor again, but he will; even though he campaigns on a presidential platform.

Congressman-at-Large Neil Staeble is an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. The United Auto Workers are still looking for some other Democrat they like better and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh may be the man. Detroit newspapers have been urging Cavanaugh to be mayor in Detroit once in a while and not so much on the banquet circuit.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Makie has made up his mind. He's not going to run for governor on the Democratic ticket, but instead will be a candidate for Congress in the new 7th District of Genesee (Flint), Lapeer and Shiawassee counties. The highway commissioner job is going to expire under terms of the new Michigan constitution in 1965 and he's looking around in a presidential year when President Lyndon Johnson may help drag some Democrats into office with his campaign.

Lieut. Gov. T. John Lesinski, who says he's seriously thinking of being a Democratic candidate for governor, has fired a broadside at his fellow Democrat, John Mackie, who announced that the Democrats shouldn't fight each other and that with Staeble already out for governor, he would desist in the interest of party harmony and run for Congress.

Lesinski, who likes to play rough in the china shop, says "I would very much hesitate to listen to Mr. Mackie's advice in matters of partisanship for isn't he the one who abandoned us all in the 1962 campaign and went off to Europe? He was not there when he was needed." That was the time when Democratic Governor John Swainson was seeking a second term against Romney's challenge. He lost but T. John won over venerable Clarence Reid, who's now helping Higgins against Romney.

In the Upper Peninsula Congressman John Bennett of the 12th District and Congressman Victor Knox of the 11th District will seek the Republican nomination in the new 11th District, which combines the old 11th and 12th in the U. P.

On the Democratic side Atty Ray Clevenger of the Soo; former State Representative Andy Wisti of the Copper Country and Menominee County Prosecutor Russell Bradley look like the Congress hopefuls.

There'll be a scramble of U. P. state senators and representatives as new districts are drawn in the apportionment process. And in Lansing there's prospect of an attempted exodus of Democratic politicians to the Washington scene to join Soapy Williams while the Democrats are in control there. Democrats thinking of trying for Congress are said to include State Treasurer Sanford Brown and Auditor General Billie Farnum. Farnum's job will be filled by appointment by the Legislature instead of popular election under the new Constitution. Brown's job as state treasurer will be filled by appointment by the governor.

Former Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn and former Corporation and Securities Commissioner Clevenger, both Democrats, add to the list and project the possibility of the strongest team of congressional aspirants ever fielded by the Democrats. Michigan's present congressional delegation has 11 Republicans and 8 Democrats. If President Johnson's coattails could carry all new Michigan Democratic hopefuls into Congress, the balance would shift to 13 Democrats and 6 Republicans.

It looks as though the Upper Peninsula may see more politicians than bird hunters come October.

Servant Of People

The victory of Kenneth Frosdick over the State of New York ought not to be passed off as merely an isolated instance of one determined man taking on a sovereign state and winning.

It ought to serve as an inspiration for millions of other motorists who allow their cars to be used as mobile billboards.

Frosdick is the man who objected to New York's 1964 license plates because they bore the inscription "World's Fair." He sued the commissioner of motor vehicles, claiming the fair was a private organization and the state had no business giving it free advertising.

The New York Supreme Court agreed with him and ordered that the state must issue plates without the inscription to anyone who requested them. The state is appealing.

Not everyone will sympathize with Frosdick's fight. He won a victory at the expense of a good cause, for the fair will benefit all New Yorkers, whether or not it is a private corporation.

Frosdick would have been more of a hero had he sued, not the state, but one of those car dealers who doesn't hesitate to affix his name to cars that don't belong to him.

Very few automobiles are seen today that don't bear either a decal or a metal nameplate bolted onto the body. A lot of car owners are evidently very fond of their dealer. It's hard to believe so many people are too timid to simply say "no."

Overlooked

Maybe you've been so preoccupied with the grim news from trouble spots around the world that you've overlooked such items as:

● New York City has passed a law making it illegal to smoke in a hotel bed. (It's still legal to burn yourself up in your own bed at home.)

● At least one major airline is now permitting passengers, including the ladies, to smoke pipes and cigars in the planes. (And cigarettes, too, of course.)

● An educator says the naughty child is the creative child. (Makes being good sound pretty stupid, doesn't it?)

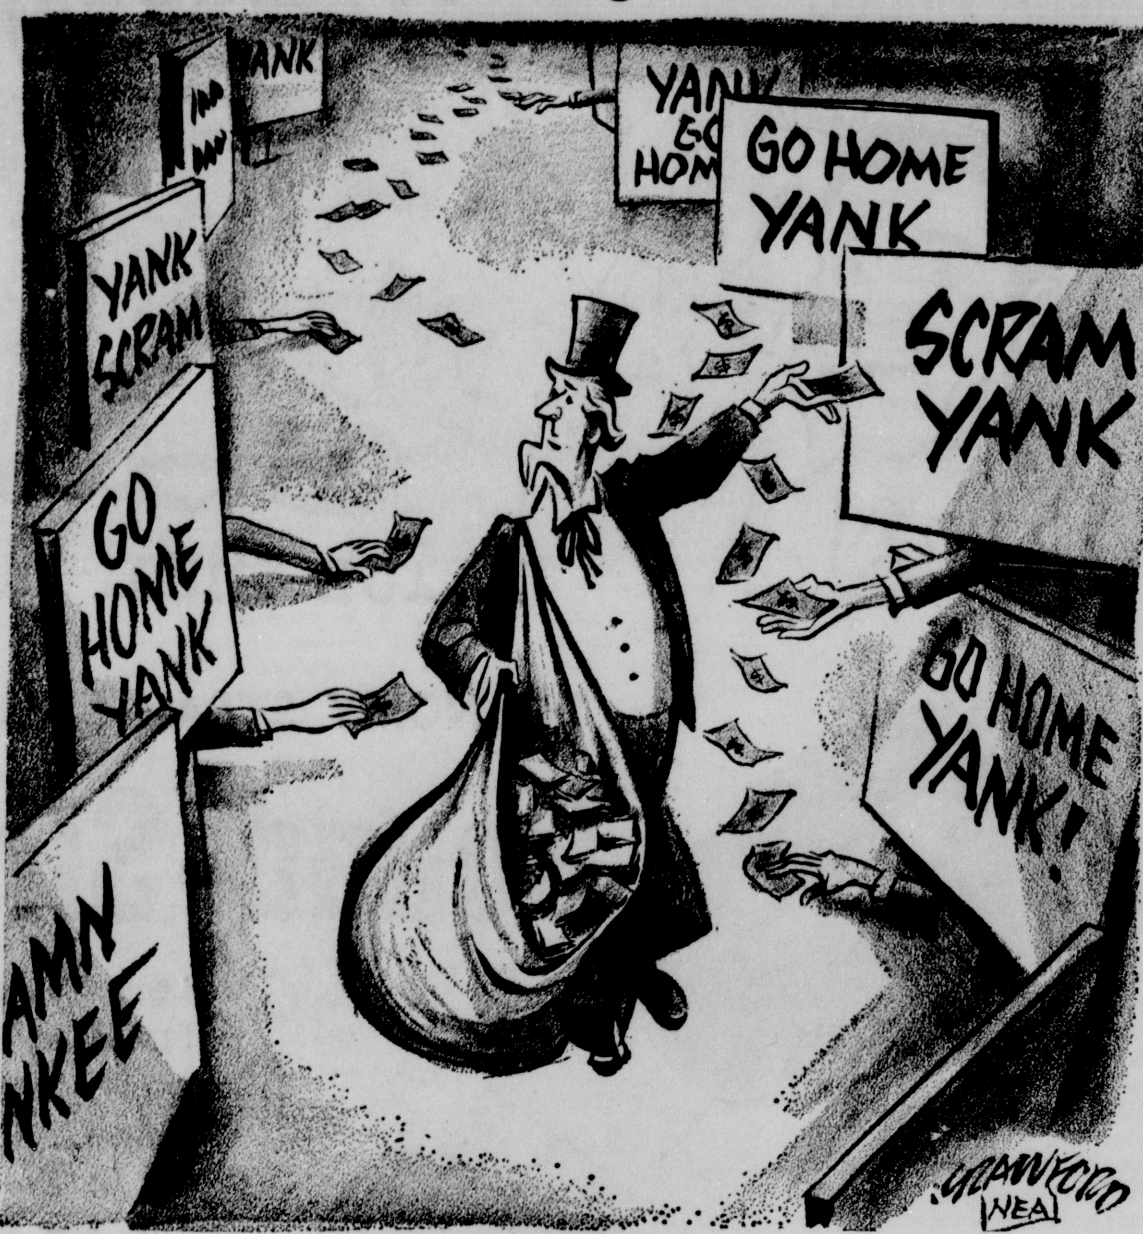

● A survey shows that at least 5,000,000 Americans are playing guitars—and that most of them are amateurs. (That may be why it sounds like 10,000,000.)

● Americans spent more than $550 million for dog and cat food in 1963—two and a half times as much as was spent for baby food. (Any comment?)

● For the person who just has to brush after every meal, a thoughtful inventor has come up with a dental tablet that you pop in your mouth wherever you are, crush with your teeth, and then brush. (Of course, you have to run home for your toothbrush.)

Now you can go back to worrying about Panama.

The Do-gooder

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — An angry President Johnson is personally taking a hand in strong new protests to British Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home over the British agreement to sell buses to Cuba.

A U. S. official close to the White House says "Lyndon Johnson was angry enough before, but since Castro shut off the water to Guantanamo, he's hopping mad. He's really worked up. He's going to make (the British) feel it. And he's the man who can do it."

But dressing down the British is one thing and keeping Britain, France, Spain and our other allies from selling to Fidel Castro is another. Despite a lagging agriculture and declining sugar output, high world sugar prices mean Castro is "rolling" in foreign exchange and can pay for what he wants.

Johnson has told Secretary of State Dean Rusk he must find some way to keep the West from selling Castro significant amounts of those things he needs to pin his limping economy together. High on the list: Oil refinery and other industrial production parts and equipment, railroad locomotives and freight cars, buses and trucks. The word is that Rusk is supposed to bear down especially hard on our European allies.

The State Department is finding this easier said than done.

U. S. diplomats had been trying to get the Latin-American states to band together in a strong protest against West European trade with Cuba. But by helping whip up the trouble in Panama, Castro likely has prevented any strong, concerted action.

If Spain sells key items to Cuba the United States can shut off aid to Spain. "But there's a catch," says one official. "Our bases in Spain are tied in with aid. If we abolish the aid, what happens to our bases?"

The Doctor Says:

Kidney Stones Start Small

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — What are the early symptoms of kidney stones? How can they be prevented? We have an artesian well and the water is very hard. Could this be a cause?

A — When kidney stones start forming they are very small and cause no symptoms. A urinalysis at this stage may reveal blood and albumin in the urine. Also urinary gravel consisting of stones not much larger than grains of sand may be passed. As the stones get larger they pass from the kidneys to the bladder with greater difficulty. It may take several hours of extreme agony for one such stone to pass.

Until we know more about the cause of these stones we can't be very scientific about means of prevention. Most doctors now believe that there is no single cause. Several factors must occur simultaneously to produce stones. Since there are different kinds of stones the causes also vary with the type of stone.

Drinking excessive amounts of milk (more than a quart a day) has long been thought to be a factor in the production of stones. It is believed that the combination of calcium and milk sugar favors the production of stones. Even this will not cause stones unless, as a result of disease or injury in the urinary tract, there is a foreign body nucleus for the calcium or magnesium salts to crystallize on.

Another study suggests that acetazolamide, a diuretic widely used in the treatment of edema or waterlogging, favors the development of magnesium-ammonium phosphate stones. But here again an injury to the urinary tract was a necessary preliminary factor.

Other observers have found that a lack of zinc and manganese in the soil, and hence in the local water supply, favors stone formation. With this in mind, prevention by means of adding these elements to the water supply in communities where they are lacking suggests itself.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Sea Water Use Pays Off For US At Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Knowledge regarding desalting of sea water gained by this country since 1952 will pay off as the United States moves to make self-sustaining its naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, a day.

The Navy has turned to the Interior Department to obtain a desalting plant which was designed to produce one million gallons a day but has been working so successfully at San Diego, Calif., that its output has been running 1.4 million gallons daily.

This is regarded by government officials as only a forerunner of what is to come as they talk of cooperative studies with foreign countries for plants with output ranging from 50 million to as much as 300 million gallons per day.

Such plants are conceived of as combination electric power generation and desalting plants, possibly using nuclear fuel.

Under the plan for Guantanamo, Interior officials said the Navy will provide reimbursement so that a replacement plant can be provided at San Diego. Both San Diego and the State of California assisted in financing the plant.

This plant and three other demonstration plants were constructed by the Interior Department under a research program begun in 1952.

Interior statistics show that in 1952 cost of converted sea water varied from about $4 to $5 a thousand gallons. Now it is down to $1 to $1.50.

Undersecretary of the Interior James K. Carr said in an interview today that "as an outgrowth of our program a desalting plant is operating in the Virgin Islands which was designed with rated capacity of 275,000 gallons of fresh water daily but which has operated for extended periods with production running 325,000 gallons a day.

Test At Key West
"The San Diego demonstration plant, along with the other demonstration plants at Freeport, Tex.; Webster, S.D.; Roswell, N.M., are proving on a practical basis what can be done with certain processes.

"The basic problem to the known processes is one of low cost energy. We have been working closely during the last year with the Atomic Energy Commission and the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress on possible use of nuclear power to desalt sea water."

Primary attention is centered on a desalting project that would supply Key West, Fla., with fresh water instead of transporting it 140 miles by the pipeline from wells near Florida City.

Day TV Fitted To Housewives

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If ever there was a misrepresented segment of the vast television audience, it is the women who turn on their sets during the daytime hours.

They have been repeatedly pictured as a lazy, slacker group, lolling in front of their sets, suffering deliciously over the problems of the soap opera families or watching other people play games. Dishes are supposed to be stacking up in the sink, beds go unmade and poor, hard-working dad is lucky if he gets cold cuts and potato salad for dinner.

The truth is that daytime serials and panel or game shows are admirably designed and used for auxiliary occupations. While football or baseball watching demands the (usually male) viewer's total attention, it is easy and pleasant to sew, darn, knit, hook rugs, paint china, wash dishes, even make beds while following the progress of "You Don't Say" or the involvements of "As the World Turns." They require, at the most, only an occasional glance at the television screen.

European Steel Upsurge Irks U.S. Producers

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The chicken war could be succeeded by a steel war.

American and European steel producers are at odds over imports and tariffs. And the dispute may become one of the sorest when a new round of international tariff cutting talks starts in Geneva in May.

Increased tariffs by the European Common Market on American frozen chickens caused the hottest friction last year.

American steel executives today are telling a U.S. Tariff Commission hearing of their complaints against a rising flow of foreign steel into U.S. markets. They also are asking measures to broaden the export business for American steel mills.

Tariffs Boosted
The European Coal and Steel Community already has acted. Saturday it raised its tariffs on imports of low-priced steel and cast iron.

The community—the six Common Market nations—also reports a big upsurge in orders for its steel mills. It says most of the orders are coming from within the Common Market—West Germany, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Steel producers outside the Common Market aren't happy that the duties are being raised against them—to an average of 9 per cent.

American producers haven't been happy that European steel export prices have been lower than the prices charged Common Market consumers—or the prices of American steel products here.

But with the rise in demand in Europe, the six nations may find less need to export—and to maintain lower prices to do so. And already export prices of some European steel products have risen above charges of a year ago.

Southeast State Seeks Industries

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Thirteen two-man teams set out today to convince officials of 39 electronics firms throughout the nation that southeastern Michigan is an ideal place to operate a plant.

Businessmen, educators and civic leaders are participating in the campaign sponsored by the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, the University of Detroit and Wayne State University.

The 39 firms were selected on the basis of replies to letters sent to 89 firms by Bernard M. Conboy, chairman of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion.

In addition to the universities, several utilities firms also are cooperating in the campaign.

Zoo Expert Dies

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dr. Norman E. Hartweg, president of the Organization for Tropical Studies and an internationally known expert on reptiles, died Sunday after a two-month illness. He was 59.

Hartweg was curator of reptiles and amphibians and assistant director of the Museum of Zoology at the University of Michigan.

Missionary Will Speak At First Methodist

Mrs. Dean Schowengerdt will speak in First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday about her missionary service in both Japan and Korea.

A native of Wamego, Kan., Mrs. Schowengerdt holds B. S. and M. S. degrees in Home Economics and Child Guidance from Kansas State University. The Schowengerdts were married in 1947 and commissioned by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in June, 1950, as lay agricultural missionaries to Korea.

Because of wartime conditions, they had to remain in the states for two years; and during this time they did graduate study at Iliff School of Theology, Denver, and studied the Korean language at Yale and the University of California. When Mr. Schowengerdt could enter Korea in 1952, she went with their small daughter to Japan and taught English in mission schools there for two years.

Since 1954 both have been working at the Union Christian

Mrs. Schowengerdt

Service Center in Tasjon, Korea. This interdenominational project includes a boys' orphanage, a baby fold, rural service and training activities, a rest home for tubercular patients, and a food cannery.

Mrs. Schowengerdt has taught home economics to rural leader trainees, taught English at the Methodist Seminary in Tasjon, and directed the baby fold which cares for 45 children ranging in age from a few days to five years. In addition she cares for their family which includes Deborah, 12, Daniel, 6, Rachel, 5, and Andrew, 2.

Regular Wednesday meetings at First Church have been adjusted so that all groups can attend the service. The senior choir will sing. Abigail and Miriam Circles hostesses for February, Mrs. Jack Foster, Mrs. Lyle Plowman, Mrs. John Bell and Miss Mary Newton, will host the social hour for the entire congregation.

Friends throughout the community are cordially invited to attend.

Ann Landers

Mother Feels Addle-Brained

Dear Ann Landers: My father died when I was a child. My mother, in her attempt to be both mother and father, never allowed me to make a decision. When I tried to do something on my own things always seemed to turn out badly. Mother never failed to remind me that "next time" I should listen to her.

I grew up feeling hopelessly addle-brained and incompetent. Today, even though I am the mother of four children, I still torture myself over whether I bought the right dress yesterday. Maybe it should have been the green one. Or did I say the correct thing at the PTA meeting? Perhaps I should have remained silent.

The point of my letter is this: The quality I most admire in your column is the very quality which is woefully lacking in myself—the ability to get to the heart of a problem, make a quick decision and never look back. How do you do it?—MRS. MAYBER

Dear Maybe: Thanks for the compliment, but those "quick decisions" represent more hours than I care to admit. The reply that sounds totally effortless is the one I struggled with all day.

You are right about never looking back, however. I do my level best with each reply. Then I close the door and go on to the next one. Post-mortems are for coroners — not columnists.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a man with a problem. My wife is 37 years old. We have three lovely children. Everything is fine, except that my wife has lost interest in sex.

She is a wonderful wife and mother, gets along fine with my family and the neighbors. Everybody thinks she is a grand person.

I tried to talk to her about this problem last week. She said she loves me as much as ever, but she'll soon be 40 and sex is for younger people.

Do you think something might be wrong with her physically? She goes to the doctor every year for a check-up and appears to be in excellent health.

I have heard of a sex potion that peeps up men when their sex appetite fades. Is there something similar on the market for women? Please advise me.—BILL

Dear Bill: Any doctor will tell you that the vast majority of men and women who lose interest in sex at a relatively early age (and 37 is early) have mental problems, not physical problems.

"Sex potions" are phony. The only person who benefits is the one who sells it. And, of course it helps him only financially.

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound too insane to print, but it has been on my mind for a long time and I'd appreciate your opinion.

The question: When is it proper to sign "Love" to a letter or card? Over the holidays we received several cards and some handwritten notes signed "Love" from casual friends and people to whom we are not related.

When I was a high school girl, if a fellow signed "Love" to a note or a letter, I walked around with my head in the clouds for days. I myself would never sign "Love" to a card or a letter unless I felt very close to a person. Comment, please. — SINCERELY YOURS

Dear Sincerely: A letter signed "Love" does not necessarily mean "I love you" any more than a letter signed "Yours truly" means "I am truly yours."

The word "Love" is intended to convey a feeling of warmth, which does not come through in the employment of "Sincerely."

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers and Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of

Cancer Drive Heads Named

Lawrence G. Gorsche, retired division manager of the Edison Sault Electric Co., and Frank M. Gierke Sr., retired postmaster, have been appointed co-chairmen for the annual Schoolcraft County Cancer fund drive.

A kick-off for the annual April campaign is scheduled in Escanaba today with Leonard Males, Schoolcraft society president, representing the area, along with the fund drive chairmen.

Mrs. J. J. Herbert has announced that the past year an educational program on smoking in relation to cancer has been conducted in the elementary schools. One thousand texts will be distributed to students in sixth and junior high grades. A record and film strip will be in all the schools. Mrs. Arthur LaMontagne is chairman of education.

Elks Lodge Will Honor Trustees

The Elks Lodge will observe trustees night Wednesday with a 7 p. m., seafood dinner preceding a meeting to vote on new members, and honor trustees. Those to be honored are J. P. Quick, five years; Edward Mathson, four; Carl Carlson, three; Morris Laux two; and George Schweikert, one. An initiation meeting is planned March 18 at which time a Newberry ritual team will conduct degree work.

Rotary Hears New Minister

The Rev. Roy A. Pitts, new pastor of the First Baptist Church, was guest speaker for the Rotary Club Monday. His topic was youth.

He outlined metropolitan area youth problems and cited that in earlier years factors affecting youth could be controlled. These were the home, the church, the school and the community. Now, TV, education, science, religion, and other factors affect not only youth but also "control us," he said.

Carl Carlson introduced the speaker for the program arranged by Walter Linderth.

Rural Teachers Fete Mrs. Adamek

Mrs. James Adamek, retiring Doyle teacher, was honored guest when the rural teachers of Schoolcraft County met Friday at 8 p. m., at the home of Elsie Nelson with Hiawatha teachers as hostesses. A gift was presented to her.

Mrs. Adamek, who taught 30 years in Chicago, is a graduate of Lewis Institute, now Illinois Institute of Technology and also attended Chicago Teachers' College. She and her husband began coming here for vacation in the 1930s and moved to Gulliver after he retired from the Berwin, Ill., fire department. She will complete five years teaching at Gulliver in June.

Mrs. Ludwig Hough and Harold Miller, who attended an MEA Council meeting in Newberry, reported on discussions on retirement, tenure and state aid bills.

The teachers' gift to Mrs. Adamek was presented by Mrs. Clifford Christensen.

A letter from Mrs. Glen Beal, who is vacationing in the south was read and the meeting then adjourned to various grade level groups for discussion of common problems and work on the new mathematics curriculum. A scramble of the letters of the names of teachers proved an interesting diversion. Cherry swirl nuts and coffee and tea were served.

Hospital

Discharged from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Eva Sangraw, 216 N. 2nd St.; Fred Minor, Cooks; Dawn Cota, Garden; John Olson, 118 S. Houghton; Frances Blanchard, Rte. 1, Louella Gardner, 441 Alger Ave.; Clifford Smith, Gulliver; Gladys Lester, Garden; Ronald Fenske, Engadine; Cheryl Groh, and baby, Newberry; Arlene Trzeciak and baby, Munising.

NOTICE

I shall be leaving this week-end for the south on my annual winter vacation. My dental offices will be open for business on Easter Monday, March 30.

My secretary Rose Marks, will also have a three-four week vacation, but will be in the office one week before I return to make new appointments.

Thank you,
Dr. Radgens

Marble Electric Part Of Push By Human Dynamo

A man who has never been in Gladstone is a strong influence on its growth, according to an article in the Feb. 1 issue of Forbes Magazine.

He is Harold S. Geneen and he is the "cocky, hard-driving and ambitious 54-year-old ex-accountant who is president of one of the United States' biggest companies, International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.," the magazine says.

"He forces his personality into every nook and cranny of the sprawling, $1.4 billion assets company. His loudly declared goal is not merely to make ITT more profitable but to stamp upon it a managerial pattern which will keep it a great company long after he has passed from the scene. He has taken as his model the creation by the great Alfred Sloan of the modern General Motors Corp.

Holds Defense Contracts
"ITT is a terribly complex company. As the world's largest producer of navigational aids, it is a major U. S. defense contractor; government orders account for 60 per cent of its U. S. manufacturing volume of $616 million. It has the largest European manufacturing operation (about $644 million last year) of any U. S. corporation, except for General Motors and probably Ford, and is outranked by just three European electric equipment makers, Philips, Siemens and AEG. In Latin America it is the major operator of telephone companies."

Forbes reports that in 5 years Geneen has fired or taken the resignations of all 50 of ITT's top managers, not counting two or three who died on the job. He works 16 hours a day and most Sundays.

Stockholders have little reason to complain about the $300,000 in salary and bonuses Geneen earned last year or about the 50,000 options he holds on ITT stock. ITT sales have doubled in five years to $1.4 billion in 1963 and profits have risen 88 per cent to about $50 million.

Geneen thinks General Motors is great because it produces a steady, increasing stream of earnings and because "a foreman there knows only one way to operate—the way GM taught him." He admires GM because it is not dependent on the personality of any one man.

Three Firms Acquired
He may find he has a tougher job on his hands than restoring the company to profitability because while GM makes motorized transportation equipment, ITT is essentially fragmented, both geographically and functionally.

ITT still has limited financial resources. It generates about $70 million a year in cash flow but for a company of this size that is only two-thirds of its nearly capital expenditures. Geneen has raised long term debt to $296 million and kept common stock dividends to $1 to husband resources.

All 81 companies and 190 factories in the company have to file detailed financial reports monthly, confession of error and problems are dealt with sternly.

"Just last year Geneen acquired three small companies Nesbitt Corp., General Controls and Bell & Gossett (with E&G's Marble Division, in Gladstone, of which ITT-Bell & Gossett, Inc. is selling the Marble Arms part of the Division) and combined them into an industrial products group selling more than $100 million worth of heating and air conditioning equipment, pumps and industrial controls, items he can push in Europe if they work out. Thus he makes progress in the United States. This year's U. S. sales are apt to hit $700 million, double those of three years ago.

"Having gotten this venerable company (ITT) rolling again, Geneen is almost fanatical about keeping it that way. He has determination enough to match his ambitions. Whether he has the means is the open question," says Forbes

Junior Braves Play Negaunee In GLC Clash

Gladstone's junior varsity Braves will face Negaunee at 7 p. m. Thursday in Munising in the opening game of the annual Great Lakes Conference Soph-Fresh basketball tournament.

Paired in the second game at 8:30 are Manistique and Munising. The championship game will be played Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Gladstone advanced to the tournament semifinals by defeating Escanaba 39-35 in the district finals. Manistique was the winner of the Manistique-Soo Newberry district and Negaunee came out of the Ishpeming-Negaunee-Marquette playoffs. Marquette had won the GLC jayvee tourney the past two years. Gladstone has never won the championship and Manistique's last crown was in 1957.

Carney Jumps To Fourth

Negaunee Quint Returns To No. 1 Spot In State

By The Associated Press
It's been three long weeks, but Negaunee St. Paul is back on top of the Class D rankings in The Associated Press' weekly high school poll.

St. Paul ousted Port Huron St. Stephen which led the voting for the past two weeks. The Upper Peninsula club posted two impressive victories in returning to the top spot. They had led for two weeks early in the voting conducted by the AP's panel of sportswriters and sportscasters. The top three teams in the Class A, B and C rankings held their positions, but only one team is where it was last week in Class D.

St. Stephen is second in Class D, and Britton-Macon, second last week, is third. Carney jumped from sixth to fourth. Baraga, beaten by Hancock 47-44, dropped from fifth to sixth.

Covert leaped from 10th to sixth. Saginaw St. Joseph has company in seventh place. They're tied with Mass, which is up from eighth. Bloomingdale fell from fifth to ninth, and Pickford, a newcomer, is 10th. Fowler, ninth last week, fell to 13th position.

Lansing Sexton remains king of the Class A schools, although Detroit Northwestern is closing fast. River Rouge is still ahead in Class B. Grosse Pointe St. Paul remained atop Class C.

In Class A, Benton Harbor switched places with Grand Rapids Christian, and Grand Rapids South moved from 10th to ninth. Detroit Northeastern, ninth last week, is eighth. Muskegon Heights replaced Muskegon in the ratings, moving into 10th spot after beating their formerly eighth-ranked cross-town rivals Friday for the second time this year.

Rudyard made the biggest gain in Class B, leaping from ninth into fifth place. Hudsonville Unity Christian and Flint St. Michael each moved up a notch to fourth and fifth places, respectively. Sandusky and Ithaca fell sharply. Sandusky, upset by Marlette in overtime, is seventh after being fourth last week, and Ithaca is ninth, down from seventh.

Coleman moved into fourth place in Class C, and Wakefield moved from 10th to sixth place. New Haven dropped into Coleman's old fifth spot. Addison fell from sixth to eighth, and Muskegon Christian dropped one notch to ninth place.

Sault Ste. Marie Loretto is the only newcomer in Class C, replacing Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart in 10th place.

Lawmakers Take Pot Shots At New Ring Rule

LANSING (AP) — The State Athletic Board of Control's new policy on free boxing and wrestling passes got the old one-two from indignant legislators Monday.

First, Democrats, then Republicans, took roundhouse swings at the policy instituted by athletic commissioner Frank Cavanaugh of Detroit, a recent appointee of Gov. George W. Romney.

Cavanaugh — who said last week he didn't like the idea of furnishing free passes to politicians and their friends — sent one pass to each House member.

But an accompanying letter said the passes would be valid only with a photograph and could not be loaned. Violation would result in the pass being confiscated, the letter said, adding:

"We regret enforcing these restrictions, but due to past abuses of these passes it has become necessary to limit their use. Your strict compliance is requested, otherwise your pass will be voided."

Several House members, angered at such brusque treatment, told Cavanaugh he could keep his passes.

"He can go fly a kite, or row a boat, or something," declared House minority leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit. "We Democrats resent this."

"My first reaction was to send the letter back to him," said Rep. Frederic Marshall, R-Allegheny. Numerous others in both parties said they'd thought of the same thing.

Cavanaugh's open feud with legislators — most of whom he has never met or even seen — began after a bill was introduced by Rep. Edwin A. FitzPatrick, D-Detroit, to outlaw the boxing commission.

FitzPatrick said his proposal was instigated in part by the fact that a long-standing policy on free passes had been abolished.

Cavanaugh retorted that he wasn't going to hand out passes in "batches of 100" to legislators wanting them for their friends.

"I doubt if anyone ever asked for 100 passes," Rep. Michael O'Brien, D-Detroit, said Monday.

"I only asked for 15," said Rep. Richard A. H. J. Guzowski, D-Detroit.

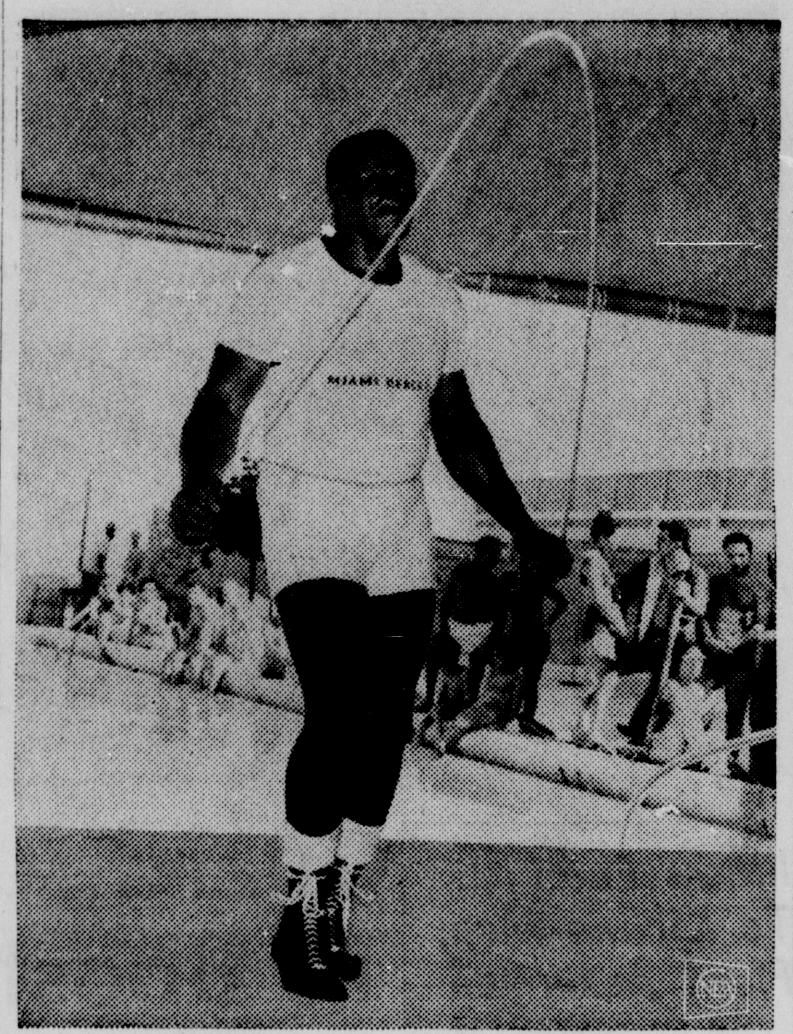

St. Pat Quint Wins Playoff

Coach Spike O'Connell's St. Pat cagers swept championship honors in the Grade School basketball league by capturing the second half crown Monday night, defeating St. Thomas 35-29 in a playoff game.

St. Pat's had won the first half championship before tying St. Thomas for first place at the end of the second half schedule.

The annual post-season tournament will begin with two games Thursday night. At 7, Flat Rock will meet St. Anne's and at 8:30 St. Joe will play All Saints.

The winners will return to action Saturday afternoon against St. Pat's and St. Thomas at 1:30 and 3. On Sunday, the consolation game will begin at 1:30 and the championship game at 3. All games will be played at the Holy Name gym.

SONNY LISTON, world heavyweight champion, finishes off a training session with a rope skipping routine accompanied by the tom-tom tempo of a Night Train recording. Liston will defend his crown against Cassius Clay Tuesday, Feb. 25, in Miami Beach. The fight will be carried over the Delta TV Cable system in Escanaba.

Spartans Upset Illinois Cagers

By The Associated Press
Michigan State has a so-so basketball season but the Spartans have a knack for coming up with that big game when the chips are down.

Illinois, last year's Big Ten champion, was the victim Monday night, 85-82, at East Lansing.

In other games, Tri-State, Ind., edged Hillsdale, 61-60, and Alma came from behind to trip Northern Michigan, 67-62.

Michigan State's Pete Gent led the Spartans past the Illini with 30 points. The Big Ten loss was the fifth in a row for Illinois which has won only three conference games. The victory avenged an earlier 87-66 loss at Champaign, Ill.

The Spartans upset Ohio State earlier this year, and gave second-ranked Michigan two rugged games before bowing out.

The Spartans led 47-45 at the half, and upped the lead to six points with less than four minutes remaining. Illinois cut this to one point, 83-82, with 11 seconds to play. Gent dropped in a layup at the buzzer to ice the victory.

Michigan State, now 5-6 in the conference and 11-10 overall, got 23 points and 19 rebounds from center Fred Thomann. Don Freeman paced Illinois with 27 points.

Tri-State's Bob Powers led his club from a 31-28 halftime deficit in the victory over Hillsdale. He tallied 17 points to tie

Providence Accepts Bid To NCAA Cage Tourney

By The Associated Press
And just why did Providence, the National Invitation Tournament defending champion, turn down a bid by the NIT and accept one from the National Collegiate Athletic Association?

Well, athletic director, the Rev. A. B. Begley candidly pointed out, "It's the first time we had a chance to accept." Which means it's the first time the NCAA had ever picked Providence to fill one of the 10 at-large spots in its national tournament.

"We accepted the NCAA invitation," Begley said, "because we belong to the NCAA and it's our association championship."

The Friars, who had some early season uneasiness but now appear to have found the formula, were one of nine teams picked by the NCAA. Three more accepted bids to the NIT Monday as the two groups began their selections.

In addition to Providence, the NCAA selected defending champion Chicago Loyola, Villanova, Creighton, Texas Western, Louisville, Oregon State, Utah State and Seattle.

One more NCAA at-large team remains to be picked for the long string of eliminations that culminate in the national tournament at Kansas City March 20-21. The other 15 spots go to conference champions.

The NIT, which will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden March 12-21, picked DePaul, 16-2; Pitt, 14-6; and New York University, 11-5. Nine others will be selected later.

Providence, 17-3 after Monday night's 95-75 triumph over Scranton, and Villanova, ranked fifth nationally at 19-2, are in the NCAA Eastern regional along with Temple, Middle Atlantic champion, and the champions of the Yankee, Southern, Ivy and Atlantic Coast conferences.

Loyola, 15-5, and Louisville, 14-6, are in the Midwest with the conference champs from the Mid America, Ohio Valley, Southeastern and Big Ten.

The Midwest has Creighton, 19-5, Texas Western, 19-2, and winners from the Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight and one more at-large team to be named.

The Far West has Oregon State, 21-3, Utah State, 17-3, Seattle, 16-4, and winners from the Western Athletic Conference, the Big Six and the West Coast Conference.

Regional first-round eliminations will be held in Philadelphia, Evanston, Ill., Dallas and Eugene, Ore. Teams with first-round byes are the champs from the Atlantic Coast, the Big Eight, the Southeastern, the Big Ten, the West Coast and the Big Six.

Regional championships are scheduled March 13-14 in Raleigh, N.C., Minneapolis, Wichita, Kan., and Corvallis, Ore.

Providence, which won only four of its first seven, celebrated its selection with its 13th straight triumph in the decision over Scranton. John Thompson and Jim Stone each had 25 points for the rampaging Friars who were never in serious trouble.

Probably the top attraction was Kentucky's 104-73 home triumph over Vanderbilt. Cotton Nash played one of the finest games of his career in sparking the victory that put the Wildcats in sole possession of first place with a 9-2 Southeastern record. Kentucky, ranked third in the nation, is 19-2 overall.

Nash scored 32 points, stole the ball a dozen times, played a fine defensive game and controlled the offensive rebounds.

Cotton To Fight Young Prospect; Risks Title Shot

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Cotton, the top-ranking light heavyweight contender, is risking his hopes of a final title shot when he takes on young, hungry and undefeated Johnny Persol of New York in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Why is he taking the gamble? "I've been fighting 16 years and I've never fought in the Garden," said Cotton, a 36-year-old boxing globetrotter who doubles as a toolmaker for the Boeing plane factory in Seattle. "The Garden is it in boxing and I wanted to fight there before I call it quits."

Cotton's handicap is that he's too good. Few of the contenders or champions want to fight him. His story is similar to Archie Moore's. Old Archie had to wait years before he got his first crack in the Garden and his first chance at a title.

Ironically, Archie later declined to give Cotton a shot at the title.

"I've been after Teddy Brenner (the Garden matchmaker) ever since I took over Cotton's management three years ago to get Eddie a fight in the Garden," said George Chermers Monday. "Teddy told me he couldn't get anyone to fight Eddie."

"That was the same story every where we traveled in the States. So off we'd go to New Zealand, Sweden, Finland, Sweden, Peru. We could get fights there but not much in our own country."

"So finally we get the offer to take on Persol. Here's a kid who just comes up and he gets a shot at the No. 1 — Cotton. We're risking everything and Persol has nothing to lose. But we took the fight. Why?"

"Because Eddie is a fellow who wants to keep busy. If he can't beat Persol then he doesn't deserve the title fight."

"If Eddie wins, as he should, we're going to get after Willie Pastrano. That is if Pastrano beats that Gregorio Peralta in their title fight April 10. Pastrano is some champion. Every time you mention Cotton to him he duns like forty thieves. But if he's still champion and we're No. 1, the WBA is going to insist that Pastrano defends against Eddie."

"I want just one more chance at the title," said Cotton, who lost a title fight with Herold Johnson on a split decision in 1961. "I thought I won that fight. Now if I can get one more chance, it would make up for a lot of the years I've put in the ring."

Cardinals Seek Musial's Salary

By The Associated Press
There probably isn't a player on the St. Louis Cardinals who can carry Stan Musial's bat, but there's a long line of volunteers ready to lift his pocketbook.

With the official March 1 opening of spring training less than two weeks off, not one of the Cardinal regulars has signed his 1964 baseball contract.

The players, most already marked for raises since they contributed heavily to the Cardinals' second-place finish last season, apparently are shooting at Musial's pocketbook. For when Musial retired, his $50,000 salary went back into the Cardinals' bank.

The only front-liners signed by the Cardinals are pitchers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor, but they are being counted on mostly for spot duty or relief work. Still unsigned are the Big Three — Ernie Broglio, Curt Simmons and Bob Gibson — and No. 1 catcher, Tim McCarver.

The Cardinals' All-Star infield is unsigned from first baseman Bill White to second baseman

Julian Javier to third baseman Ken Boyer to shortstop Dick Groat, and the top two outfielders, Curt Flood and Charlie James, still have not agreed to terms.

One outfield position is up for grabs—but the Cardinals took the first step toward what might be a solution to that problem by reacquiring Carl Warwick from the Houston Colts Monday in exchange for rookie outfielder Jim Beauchamp and Chuck Taylor, a minor league pitcher.

Warwick hit .247 for the Colts with seven homers and 47 runs batted in. Beauchamp was one of the Cardinals' bright prospects, hitting .337 at Tulsa in the Texas League.

Signing contracts Monday were pitchers Bud Daley, Stan Williams, Tom Metcalf and Pete Mikkelsen with the New York Yankees; pitchers Gary Bell, Sam McDowell and Gordon Seyfried with Cleveland; infielder Don Buford with the Chicago White Sox, and infielder Gene Alley with Pittsburgh.

Tourney Quints Gain Ground In College Ranks

By The Associated Press
Villanova and DePaul, both selected for postseason tournaments, moved up in this week's Associated Press major-college basketball poll. The voting still is dominated by unbeaten UCLA followed by Michigan and Kentucky.

Duke and Oregon State also gained ground while Drake, the Missouri Valley Conference pace-setter, advanced to 10th place.

UCLA collected 35 first place votes and 376 points in the balloting by a special panel of 38 regional selectors. The Bruins beat Washington twice last week and upped their record to 21-0.

Michigan had one first place vote and 320 points and Kentucky polled 299 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Wolverines defeated Indiana 99-87 for a 17-2 record while Kentucky is 18-2 after whipping Mississippi State 65-59.

Duke's Blue Devils advanced one place to fourth with two first-place votes and 251 points. Duke is 17-3 after beating Virginia and Davidson.

Villanova moved up three places to fifth and DePaul climbed one notch to ninth. Villanova, 19-2 following victories over Duquesne and Canisius, was named as an at-large team to the NCAA tourney Monday.

DePaul, 16-2 including last week's triumphs over Marquette and Western Ontario, accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Wichita remained sixth despite its 64-63 setback by Drake. Oregon State went from ninth to seventh following a 76-72 conquest of Seattle for a 21-3 record. Davidson fell from fourth to eighth. The Wildcats lost to Furman and Duke last week.

Drake replaced Vanderbilt in the Top Ten on the strength of its victory over Wichita and a 17-4 record. Vandy, seventh a week ago, lost two games last week, 75-71 to Georgia Tech in overtime and 64-62 to Tennessee.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

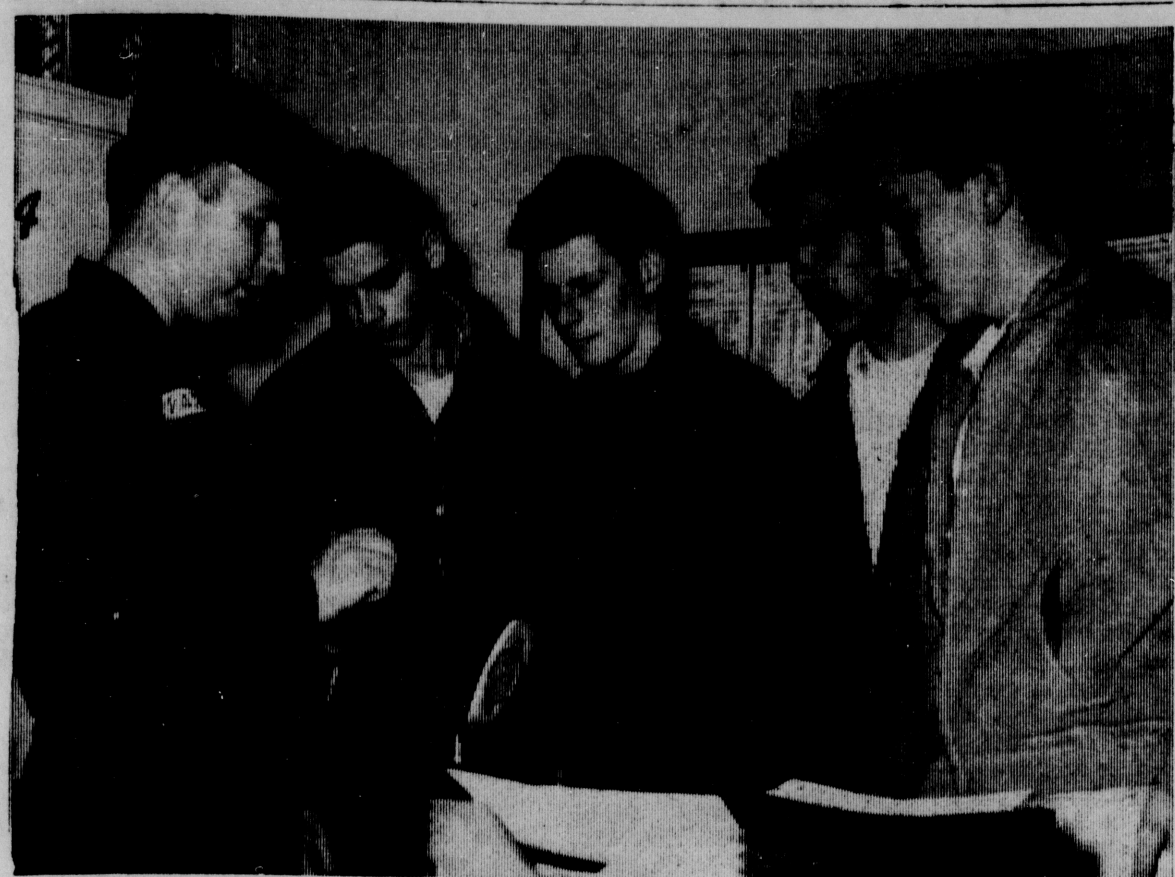

1. UCLA (35)	376
2. Michigan (1)	320
3. Kentucky	299
4. Duke (2)	251
5. Villanova	164
6. Wichita	139
7. Oregon State	122
8. Davidson	95
9. DePaul	76
10. Drake	47

Postmen Use Spray On Dogs

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: DOGS BEWARE: The Post Office is fighting back at dogs who like to bite postmen.

The weapon is an aerosol bomb of a spray called "Halt." Come spring, postmen equipped with the peppery stuff will be able to repel—or so the Post Office department hopes—any canine who leaps to the attack.

By spraying it into the dog's face, postmen should be able to complete their rounds unhindered, and the dogs should suffer no lasting harmful effects.

HOUSING: Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver says approval of President Johnson's omnibus housing program would leave the total of low-cost units built since 1949 still short of the goal of 810,000.

Testifying Monday before the House subcommittee on Housing, Weaver said 65 per cent of the 810,000 units have now been built. The President's program includes construction of 35,000 new units each year for the next four years.

Weaver estimated the cost of the program at $1.64 billion, of which $1.4 billion would be for urban renewal.

DODD-DIO: Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., says attacks on the Central Intelligence Agency constitute "a highly dangerous pastime because the CIA is one of the essential elements of our security."

In a Senate speech Monday, Dodd asked for an end to what he called "the virtual epidemic of attacks" on the government's top intelligence agency. He said the attacks were unfair and unwarranted.

Michigan Needs Gopher Victory
CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan's second-ranked Wolverines find themselves in a win-or-else situation in the Big Ten basketball race tonight.

Michigan, clipping along with an 8-1 conference mark, invades Minnesota (6-3) and the Wolverines must beat the Gophers to retain undisputed possession of first place in the Big Ten.

Ohio State defeated Iowa 99-82 Monday to move within one-half game of the league lead. Should Michigan lose to Minnesota, the Wolverines and Ohio State would find themselves in a tie for first place, with Minnesota only one game behind.

Illinois forfeited all hopes of repeating for the title when the Illini dropped an 85-82 decision to Michigan State Monday night and Indiana dragged Wisconsin into the Big Ten cellar with an 82-80 double overtime triumph.

Look Who's Tranquilized

Mink Research Seeking Cheaper Price For Coat

Researchers at Michigan State University are suggesting that Minnie the Mink of the future may dine on tranquilizers, wear contact lenses and be a product of planned parenthood.

The mink ranchers of the Upper Peninsula aren't nearly so sure about it. They're for research and have encouraged Dr. Philip J. Schaible, MSU professor of poultry science and head of the mink project, but they wish that the lab would dab more in mink diet and less in mink love life.

The mink ranchers, mind you, are in the business for money and they encourage anything that helps them make a buck, and they say that MSU's researches on mink diet have done that in recent years, but they're less impressed with MSU's studies of breeding time change, tranquilizers and spectacles.

Not Sociable

The tranquilizers and the glasses are intended to serve the same purpose—to make the mink more docile so they can be raised in large numbers in a pen like chickens without fighting. Fighting tears the fine pelts which they're raised for.

Junior Leaders Town, Country Program Planned

The Junior Leaders' Organization under the direction of Larry Bradford, Delta County 4-H extension agent, met Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Delta County Building. Twenty junior leaders were present representing all areas in the county.

The purpose of the meeting was to begin the organization's Town and Country program, which will include visits to businesses in the area.

The Saturday tour was of the Escanaba J. C. Penny store. Don Yost, manager of the Penny store, was the host. Mr. Yost gave the history of the company and told of the store's retailing and merchandising practices. All the leaders present were enlightened and entertained by Mr. Yost.

The next Junior Leaders' meeting will be held at the Alton Hall in Ensign Township. The junior leaders of the Ensigners 4-H Club will be the hosts and hostesses.

Briefly Told

Silver Spur Saddle Club will meet Thursday at the June Peterson farm in Danforth.

The Class of 1954 of Escanaba High School will hold a reunion committee meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bartley 1224 11th Ave. S., at 8 p. m. tonight, Feb. 18. The reunion will be held on July 4 at the Dells.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to Harry E. Hahn, Gladstone Rte. 1, no chauffeur's license and failing to use the posted truck route; Mary C. Guentette, 1832 Ludington St., defective muffler; Walter T. Leask, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding; Gladys Pearson, 521 S. 11th St., no operator's license on person; Catherine Ann Dunford, 818 2nd Ave. S., following too closely; and Ernest F. Monhead, Munising, improper turn.

Security Officer Addresses Lions

Arnold Williams, manager of the district social security office in Escanaba, described the security program to the Escanaba Lions Club at its dinner meeting Monday night in the Sherman Hotel, and answered questions about it. He was introduced by Jack Manning.

Police Recruit Deadline Nears

Sgt. Hugh E. Pope, commander of the Michigan State Police Post in Gladstone, today reminded young men in the Delta County area of the deadline for the recruit training school of the State Police, set for Friday, Feb. 28 at 5 p. m.

Sgt. Pope said all applications for the next school must be received by the State Civil Service Commission in Lansing by that date. Young men interested are urged to contact their nearest State Police Post for information and application forms.

"This is an unusual opportunity to enter a career as a State Police officer," said Sgt. Pope, "and young men should not wait." He pointed out that his department is now conducting a special recruiting drive in connection with Gov. George Romney's recommendation that the State Police enlist 200 more troopers. The school will begin in mid-May.

To be eligible, young men must be between 21 and 29 years of age, married or single, not less than 5 feet 10 inches in height with weight in proportion, and have a high school education or the equivalent general educational development test.

Sgt. Pope said recruits go on payroll the first day of training and in the trooper rank alone, with regular step increases, earn more than $7,200 with a four per cent increase recommended for next July.

Promotion brings further increases and an officer is eligible to retire on a pension of half pay after 25 years of service, with the same pension going to his wife if she survives him and does not remarry.

Death Penalty Will Be Asked For Jack Ruby

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, questioning the first prospective juror in Jack Ruby's murder trial, said today "we will ask for a verdict of death."

The jury candidate, Hillard M. Stone, an illustrator, said he felt he could vote for the death penalty.

Ruby sat between defense attorneys Melvin Belli and Joe Tonahill. He kept his eyes riveted on Stone. He showed no change of expression when the question of the death penalty came into the hearing.

It was the second day of Ruby's trial.

He is charged with murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Railway Crossing Tragedy Fatal To 5 In Family

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A family outing and a visit with friends turned into tragedy when the mother and father and three of their eight children were killed in a car-train crash.

Two other children of the Samuel Monroe Bailey family were injured in the crash in the nearby Tucker community Monday night. Three children were at home.

The automobile was carried about 1,800 feet by the train after the crash at the crossing.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Bailey; Brenda, 16; Gayle, 7, and Kathie, 6.

Two other children in critical condition at a hospital were Betty Ann, 8, and Wayne, 2.

Engineer E.F. Lyons of Plum Branch, S.C., said the automobile pulled on the crossing directly in front of his train.

TAX CUT FOR AMERICANS—The Senate's $11.6 billion tax cut bill would reduce the federal income tax bill of most Americans by an average of 20 per cent. Two-thirds of the rate cuts for individuals would be effective this election year, retroactive to Jan. 1, the remainder Jan. 1, 1965.

Ruling Of Court No Threat For Michigan Plan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney said today he does not expect Monday's "equal representation" ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court to pose a threat to Michigan's 1963 congressional districting plan.

Romney also said he does not expect the Michigan Supreme Court to use the "one man, one vote" principle set forth in the decision as its guide in determining new State Senate districts.

The governor also said he is closing the door to immediate consideration of any alternatives for legislative districting this year on the premise that the Michigan Supreme Court will rule on apportionment before the end of March.

Agreement Last Year

Romney told his press conference that the U.S. court's ruling overturning Georgia congressional districts as malapportioned "would have applied to Michigan" if the legislature had not agreed last year on new congressional districts.

"We had the smallest district in the nation and also one of the largest," said the governor. "But I believe our new plan will meet the court's requirement which calls for 'equal representation for equal numbers of people, as far as is practicable.'"

Michigan's congressional plan, which carved out a new 19th District and rearranged all others, was based on the formula which at the time was being discussed as ideal by the House Judiciary Committee headed by U.S. Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Romney.

This was a formula under which no district should vary more than 15 to 20 per cent from the norm established by the state's population, divided by the number of districts.

Formula Challenged

Romney recalled that the final plan allowed for the single Upper Peninsula district to vary more than the 15 per cent but said he considered this justified because of "geographical considerations."

One other district later was found to vary slightly beyond the 20 per cent limit.

Romney said the U.S. Court's ruling in the Georgia case should have no bearing on the State Supreme Court's decision on apportionment because the "immediate responsibility" of the state court is to determine which of several plans conforms most closely to the new Constitution.

The document calls for Senate districts based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area.

This formula has been challenged in a U.S. District Court suit by Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle and three other labor leaders, on grounds it does not meet the "one man, one vote" rule.

Accident Damage Lawsuit Opens At Manistique

The jury trial and law case of Hazel and Ozzie Hazen of Garden began this morning in the Schoolcraft County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Hazen is asking $20,000 damages and her husband is seeking $10,000 for injuries she received in an accident Aug. 4, 1961 on U.S. 2 near Thompson.

Mrs. Hazen was the only witness heard so far in the case. Whiplash injuries are alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Hazen, while her stalled car was being pushed by a Charter Service Station wrecker from Manistique.

The suit is against the service station, its owner, Clyde Chartier and driver of the wrecker, Vernon Tufnell.

Picked for the jury were: Marie Clish, Frances Weber, Eleanor Schuster, Martin Holmberg, Jessie Meiers, Blanche Orlich, George Barton, Demaris Jewett, James Howland, LeRoy Fox, Isabell Dunker and Marion Laux.

Area Girl Scouts Plan Observance On Founder's Day

Girl Scout Thinking Day, Feb. 22 the birthday of the Founders of Girl Scouting, will be observed by units in Newberry, McMillan, Engadine, Curtis and Gould City. All groups are to have thoughts of peace and friendship for each other.

Mrs. Jack Minard's group in Newberry plan to use a record of foreign country songs and a folk dance from one foreign country.

Mrs. Barbara Grennan's Junior Scout group will have a meeting on Feb. 22, from 1 to 2 p. m. at a candle-light ceremony honoring the founders, when they will renew their pledges and laws.

Special programs being planned in Pentland township with Mrs. John Drefs, whose Junior group will learn language greetings of other lands. Mrs. Neal Sanders girls will learn how Girl Scouting started. The Brownie Girls in Newberry being led by Mrs. Thomas Finch and Mrs. James Squire learned of the beginning of Girl Scouting in England, the U. S. and what it is called in other countries.

Mrs. Dorothy Bays girls are learning greetings in foreign languages. Mrs. Irene Pigeon has two groups, in McMillan and Newberry, and they are planning a special program at this week's meeting.

The Junior Scouts in Gould City led by Mrs. Jean Burton will dress dolls in the costumes of other lands and will give a report on the country each doll represents. The Junior girls in Engadine, with leaders Mary Boucha and Jane Hastings will form a circle with lighted candles, as each candle is lit, they will repeat the scout law, what it means, and there will be an explanation of the World Association pin. Each girl will learn Hello, Please, Thank You, in a foreign language, and a German melody gypsy song.

The Brownies in Engadine have learned a French song Pierre Jaques and the story of a Mexican boy "Big Horse, Little Horse, and the meaning of the Spanish words in the story, and the magic words. "Thank You Very Much" in German, French, Japanese and Spanish.

In Curtis, the group under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Demanski and Mrs. Clifford Lewis will present a short program with their girls dressed in the costumes of foreign lands, and greetings will be exchanged in the land's language. They will renew their pledges and promises and sing Girl Scouting together.

Jaycees Plan Donkey Ball

A meeting of the Jaycees was held in the VFW Club on the N. River Rd. Thursday. Guests were George Miller, Robert Rossin, Jack Arndt and Ralph Fuller, who presented petitions relative to getting the toll on the Mackinac Bridge lifted.

Clyde Jago, Chairman of the donkey ball game being sponsored by the club on Feb. 29, announced that tickets are on sale, and arrangements are nearing completion.

It was resolved to close the Youth Center that was operating on John St. as after a trial period of operation it was evident that there was insufficient interest shown. However, the Jaycees plan to hold dances for the young people, times and dates to be announced.

A donation of $10 was received by a member to be awarded to the Jaycee of the year. The presentation to be made later. The next meeting will be held Thursday March 27.

State Police report that a report was received from William Haines of Fort Knox, Ky., that someone had broken the tail light on his car, as it was parked on County Road 415 two hundred feet north of M-28 in Columbus Township Sunday around 4:15 p. m.

Unknown persons shot an east window out of the Club House at Big Valley. The window was hit with a 22 bullet. The incident was reported to State Police.

Village officers apprehended two local juveniles Saturday at 10 p. m. after they had abandoned a car owned by William Heino of E. Ave. A, on E. John St. Both youths were turned over to the Probate Court.
